

SOULFOOD SEMINARS PRESENTS

THE COLORS OF COMMUNICATION

WHAT'S YOUR COMMUNICATION COLOR?

Everyone has a „communication color“. But how does your color affect how you speak—and listen—to others?

Join Liz Howard of Soulfood Seminars in this once-a-month, 90-minute business communication masterclass to discover your unique „color“, identify other people's communication colors and how they influence your interactions, and unlock a new level of personal and professional development!

„Make others hear you—play with the sound of your voice!“ - Liz Howard

DON'T MISS THIS!

What if you knew the best way to communicate with anyone you collaborate with?

Whether it's a team member or a new business partner, everyone has a different communication style. Once you learn to identify the four „Colors of Communication“—red, blue, yellow, green—you will be able to more effectively communicate with colleagues and partners, and better achieve your professional goals!

Liz Howard is Germany's first „keynote singer“ and a voice expert, and for over 15 years she has taught thousands of business professionals throughout Europe how to best interact with their colleagues' and partners' communication colors. These playful, powerful sessions will reveal a new world of business communication possibilities, and should not be missed by anyone seeking to further their professional development!
